

Toshiki Project

SYMPHONIC HEAVY METAL

Toshiki Project

Toshiki is just announcing officially the release of his own project. The first single "SAVIOR" is now available including 2 songs in which you can feel the influences of his background composed by Symphonic Heavy Metal & Visual-Kei music.

The project came into life in Japan in 2016 with a promo single "Deceiving Love" where it caught already the attention of promoters & medias overthere.

The band will officially starts playing in November 2017.

With "Savior", Toshiki offers us a Symphonic Metal, the sound is heavy, melodic and technical. He can finally, with this project, use his voice as a powerful instrument, going from melodic & clear vocals to highnotes, typical from Heavy Metal.

If you are not familiar yet with his name, you can have a look to Pan-d-ra from Tokyo (disbanded in 2016). He was its charismatic singer, giving always impressive performances.
